

An early Georgian map of the environs of London

SEUTTER, Matthäus.

Delineatio Ac Finitima Regio Magnae Britanniae Metropoleos Londini...

Augsburg, c.1728. Old colour, 495 x 575mm.

£750

A map of London and its environs, reaching St Albans in the north, clockwise to Hatfield, Gravesend, Reigate, Leatherhead and Chertsey, with the roads marked. The title cartouche features a figure of Britannia with a cornucopia filled with gold coins, and a merchant dealing with figures in Asian dress, both symbolising London's wealth through trade. Although the title is in Latin, the detail and key are in English.
