

A scarce early 18th century English plan of Venice

Anonymous.

A New Ground=Plot of the most famous City of Venice.

London? c.1720. Coloured. 260 x 390mm.

£690

An English copy of Coronelli's plan of Venice published c.1690, even keeping the Italian 'Note', although with different decoration. Over one hundred buildings, bridges, canals, etc, are numbered, unfortunately with no index. Although the map is marked 'Plate 12 Voll 1 p.484' we have been unable to deduce in which book this map appeared.
